Our Plants

Orchidaceae offers an interesting selection of Phalaenopsis, Paphiopedilums, Angraecoids, Vandas, and a unique variety of species and a few odds and ends. We are continuing to concentrate on our strong points: seed propagation of Paphiopedilums and interesting species. We create new hybrids, remake old standards and produce an interesting varieties of species using superior parents. We also continue to create new complex hybrids emphasizing vigor and color.

Website vs. the Plant List

The Plant List has a more comprehensive inventory of the plants than our website. We only put plants on the website when we have a photograph of the flower. You can cross reference the website for photos of the plants listed in the Plant List. We add new plants and photos to the website throughout the year.

Orchid propagation takes time so stay tuned for new additions to our website and Plant List. Join the mailing list on our website and receive regular emails with information about new plants, special promotions and web sales.
